Professing Members are those persons who have taken the "vows of church membership" for themselves. They are people who have professed their faith openly before the assembled congregation. People who have been received into membership through (1) baptism as an adult OR (2) through the rite of confirmation, OR (3) by certificate of transfer from another United Methodist Church or Christian denomination recognized by the United Methodist Church are considered professing members. Baptized Members are those persons who were baptized as children but who have not yet taken the vows of church membership for themselves.
